DOORWAYS

Emerson said: "Hitch your wagon to a star." One can see in those six little words the summary of human achievement, and an everlasting inspiration to the future races of men. From Socrates to Edison, every forward step taken by mankind through revolving centuries, every advance by humanity towards the ultimate goal, has been led by some valiant dreamer whose eyes were fixed upon the dawn. Moses, with dying eyes, saw a star that blazed in the Promised Land; the radiance of an eternal star led Three Wise Men to the manger in Bethlehem; Columbus pinned his faith in the dawn of a new day; Kepler, announcing the laws of the unchanging spheres; Newton, watching the apple fall, each looked beyond, and into the future.

-- J. E. Dinger.

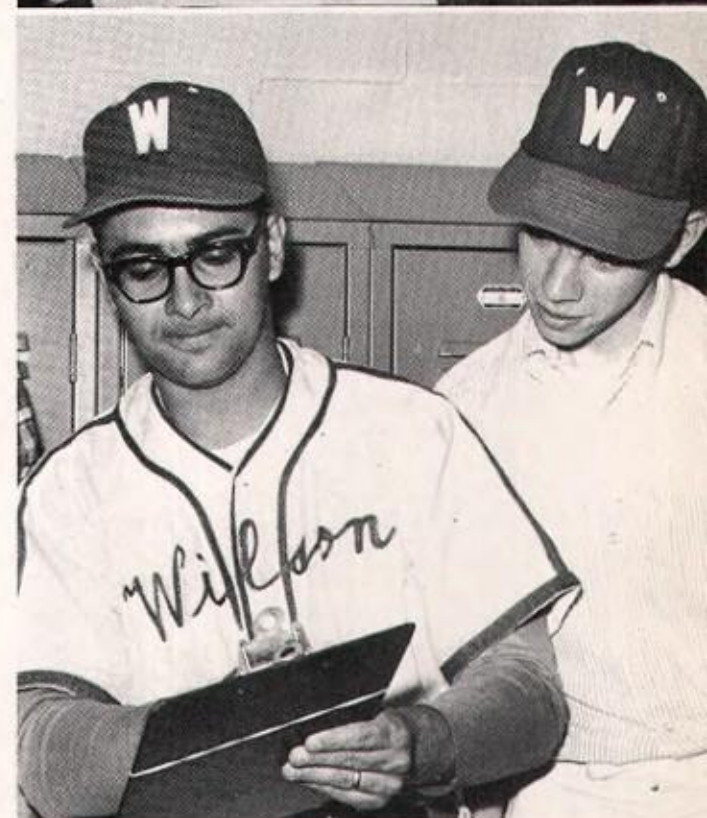

High school is the doorway to life, and students pause on the threshold to look to the future. Each must keep his eyes "fixed upon the dawn" beyond, establish a goal, and never cease building reality on the foundation of his dreams.

DEDICATION

There is much to be said about Mr. Anthony A. Matz's role in our school life. Mr. Matz has taught at Wilson since 1960 and his name has become synonymous with the Mathematics Department. His classrooms are warm with interest, enthusiasm, and participation sparked by his familiar and persistent, "What do you think, class?" But his influence is not bounded by the walls of his classroom; it goes beyond books. While coaching varsity football and baseball, he teaches sportsmanship and strategy. His awareness of student affairs and his lively comments evoke response to his friendliness and concern. His vigilance at the door of our development has made him a distinguished member of the faculty. He has established a standard for his fellow teachers and an example for his students.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The duty of providing proper tools of education for the Wilson student lies with the Wilson Joint School Board. The Wilson Joint Authority, created to construct and lease buildings to the Board, is responsible for the physical plant of the school. These organizations consist of dedicated men and women who, serving without pay, contribute many hours of their time in pursuit of improved local educational standards.

EPILOGUE TO A LIFETIME OF SERVICE

Mr. William C. Kutz, Supervising Principal of the Wilson School System, is retiring after thirty-one years of unstinting service. He leaves behind a record of achievements that have kept this school progressive and have brought local fame. Well-known and respected throughout half the state, he has always believed public work and life to be interesting and challenging.

In 1918 Mr. Kutz graduated from Kutztown Normal School with a high school diploma and a license to teach. He served a few months in the army and then went to Franklin and Marshall College to earn his B. A. His richest educational years were spent at Columbia University, where he received his masters degree in 1928. At Temple University and Penn State he worked for his doctorate, which is complete except for a dissertation.

Mr. Kutz came to Wilson in 1935 as High School Principal and was appointed Supervising Principal within the year. Since that time Wilson has had the county's first driver training, vocational agriculture, home economics, and business courses, as well as the first student treasury, class beyond the schoolroom, and remedial and developmental reading program. During his administration the Jointure has spent millions of dollars for beautiful, well-equipped schools. Today Wilson has the first pool in the county and the most complete, compact athletic center; while in the near future it will have educational television for all classes and an IBM computer for school processing and advanced math. Our school is the ninth "educational park" in the United States.

Mr. Kutz has been the influential force behind these projects, and his tireless efforts have not gone unrewarded. From 1954 to 1956 he was President of the Supervising Principals of five districts in the state, and he attended eight national conventions and toured forty-five states. During 1956 he was offered the job of County Superintendent, but he declined. Among organizations he is a Mason and belongs to Phi Delta Kappa, the American Legion, and the Rotary club. Feeling during his administration that he received wonderful public support and thoroughly enjoying his job, he almost regrets retiring. But he has plans to go deep-sea fishing and traveling and to do family research and gardening after he resigns.

Wilson has become the excellent, all-around school that it is today because of Mr. Kutz's forward-looking ideas and his proficient leadership. When he leaves, Wilson will be the less.

ADMINISTRATORS

MR. CLAYTON D. REHRER
Secondary Principal

"There are five tests of the evidence of education -- correctness and precision in the use of the mother tongue; refined and gentle manners, the result of fixed standards of appreciation of beauty and of worth, and a character based on those standards; power and habit of reflection; efficiency or the power to do."

-- Nicholas Murray Butler

DR. AARON R. MILLER

ENGLISH: INSTRUMENT OF EXPRESSION

Department Head, Miss Virginia Zug -- B. A., Albright College.

The English Department's goal includes more than teaching our native tongue: It strives to develop self-expression, acquaint students with various literary types, and cultivate an appreciation of literature and poetry. Basic grammar as well as composition and public speaking are included in the year's work. A general study of world literature is offered to sophomores; eleventh-grade literature highlights American authors; seniors study literature of English origin. Creative composition and literary analysis are stressed in the senior honors English class.

SPACE ERA WANTS SCIENTIFIC SKILLS

If our world continues to progress at its present pace, we can well see the need for good basic instruction in the sciences. Whether a student plans to be a nuclear physicist or a housewife, a knowledge of science is an important asset. Wilson's courses in general science, chemistry, biology, and physics are all designed to provide the student with general scientific knowledge. He will discover that what he has learned in high school will be useful in everyday life and essential if he plans to continue in a career of science.

OF CALCULATION

Modern scientific research has revealed that branches of knowledge formerly thought unrelated are really interlocking. More specifically, mathematics is now recognized as important to many professions and essential to any education. Wilson emphasizes this facet of education by offering three courses in mathematics, each geared to a different level of study. Review Math meets the needs of those who will use basic math at home or in industry. Senior Math prepares students who need math as a supplement to further studies in college. For pupils planning to major in math, Advanced Math offers an excellent introduction to higher mathematics. These three programs combine to make the Mathematics Department a vital organ, preparing today's students for tomorrow's problems.

DICTION AND DIPLOMACY

For students at Wilson the Foreign Language Department is the doorway to Europe. In class discussions and supplementary activities, pupils learn to reach beyond the classroom walls. There is no better way to understand a foreign people and their culture than to learn the language of the nation, and Wilson students have a wide range of languages to choose from. Through their knowledge, students can learn to broaden their horizons for the future.

LIBRARY — HOME OF FELICITY

"This ought to take about fifteen minutes of class!"

Miss Cowles -- B. S., Kutztown State College.

Providing enrichment and resource materials, the library is an important organ of the school. Within the bounds of the library, one can cross the thresholds of fantasy and far away lands or of science and humanity. To meet the academic and literary needs of the school, Wilson's library has expanded its stacks and the hours the library is open. New books are catalogued and displayed in the entrance to the library before they are placed on the shelves. There is now emphasis on extending the collection of scientific books, not only of the space age but of all areas in science. The library is constantly growing. Thousands of books from the senior high library have been taken to the new junior high building. More audio-visual materials will be added as a part of the increased program for next year. Elementary libraries will also be introduced in connection with the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Miss Kathryn Berger -- B. S., Kutztown State College; M. A., Penn State University.
Mr. Donald Wealand -- B. S., Albright College; B. A., Kutztown State College.

One of the basic principles of education is stimulating an interest and appreciation for culture. The art department offers opportunities for creative self-expression for talented and interested students. Through exercising his mental and physical abilities, taste, and judgment, the art student develops an aesthetic sense that will remain with him as long as he lives.

The Music Department includes the Senior High Marching Unit, Senior High Stage Band, Junior High Band, Senior High Chorus, Junior High Chorus, and Concert Choir. During the summer, a joint summer music program is held. Besides playing at basketball games and in parades, the band provides the school with entertainment through the dance band and spring concert. In December, the Senior High Chorus and Band offers the Christmas program. Choral activities include a fall and spring concert, programs by the Concert Choir for private organizations, and performances by the Junior Chorus. The Broadway musical comedy presented this year was "Little Mary Sunshine."

"Musical training is a more potent instrument than any other, because rhythm and harmony find their way into the inward places of the soul."

READING — A DOOR TO UNDERSTANDING

Department Head, Mrs. Esther Miller -- B. A. , Lebanon Valley College; M. A. , Temple University.

Wilson's reading department has a deeper purpose than making better readers of its students. Each student builds upon his basic skills more specific methods of reading literature, from scientific data to humorous essays. The program in this way encourages critical and analytic thought, which in turn leads to greater perception and understanding of all aspects of printed knowledge.

THE WAY TO A MAN'S HEART . . .

Too many cooks spoil the cream puffs.

There must be an easier way.

Besides providing for the intellectual needs of its students, Wilson teaches many practical skills that are useful in the lives of its graduates. Equipped with the most modern conveniences, the Home Economics Department teaches its students the proper use and care of appliances, culinary skills to please the connoisseur, fundamentals in clothing design, the value of nutrition, the psychology of child care, and a myriad of other functions required of today's homemakers. In the era of TV dinners, electric kitchens, and zigzag sewing machines, one is tempted to overlook the oldest and finest of the arts -- Homemaking.

PRACTICAL SELF-EXPRESSION

The Industrial Arts Department endeavors to develop the students' skill in the use of common tools and machinery as well as a knowledge and appreciation of modern industry. The students learn to solve problems of a practicable nature and find a means of self-expression. In this era of ever increasing mechanization, dexterity and precision in the industrial arts is essential. The students at Wilson High School are given ample opportunity to exercise their two best friends -- their hands.

MEDICAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

The experienced medical staff dispenses both aid and comfort. Dr. Johnson, school physician, administers shots and physical examinations and is present at all sports events, while Dr. Deibert handles dental work. The genial nurse, Mrs. Reiff, bandages "hurts" and relieves pain. Each provides invaluable relief to suffering students.

A VITAL COG

The business personnel are an integral part of the school system, a lubricant to the wheels of education. They coordinate activities of the administration, faculty, and students, and perform a myriad of routine tasks. Directions from the administration are distributed to faculty and students through the secretaries. Relaying countless messages weekly, the business team handles all communications from within and without the school. Students' achievements and attendance are filed and recorded. These are samplings of the duties that make the school system operate smoothly and efficiently.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. RALPH LEININGER

The students and faculty of Wilson High School noted with deep regret the passing of Mr. Ralph Leininger in August of 1965. An alumnus of Wilson, Mr. Leininger attended East Stroudsburg State College, and following graduation he taught at the Sinking Spring High School. He came to Wilson in 1943, where over the years he compiled a highly successful record as coach of soccer, football and baseball. He also coached the West Lawn Owls, whom he guided to the 1962 American Legion State Championship. At the time of his death, Mr. Leininger was serving as director of athletics and physical education.

Although Mr. Leininger achieved numerous accomplishments, they are overshadowed by the respect and esteem in which he was held. He was regarded highly not only at Wilson, but throughout the entire county, where he held positions of importance in civic and athletic circles. He is missed by all who knew him, but the spirit of friendliness and sportsmanship which he exemplified will continue to shine as a beacon to all for years to come.

MR. RALEIGH REINERT

Mr. Reinert began his long and colorful career at Kutztown State, then known as the Keystone State Normal School. After receiving his Bachelor of Arts Degree, he spent three years as the principal of Nockamixon Township High School, in Bucks County. Mr. Reinert spent the following fourteen years as the Borough Secretary of Laureldale, and then took two interesting positions in Saudi Arabia and Korea. It was upon his return from abroad that he became the Business Manager of Wilson.

For nine years, Mr. Reinert saw that the business affairs of Wilson ran smoothly and efficiently. He was a familiar sight to students who frequented the library, since he was an avid reader, and those who knew him admired him for his gentle manners and conscientiousness. On July 7, 1965, Wilson lost one of its most valuable administrators.

COOKING HAS BECOME A CULINARY ART

Good to the last drop!

Mrs. Arlene Kuhlman, home economist.

Counting the day's receipts.

We're using our manners!

What makes a school tick? Teachers, students, and the culinary artists do. Day in and day out for one hundred eighty days these important people feed us. The cooks, under the management of Mrs. Florence Machemer, create the tempting aromas that reach the farthest corners of the building. Wilson has a staff of true kitchen artists.

Double, double, toil and trouble; fire burn and caldron bubble.

Call me a "preferred risk."

Alone at last!

The maintenance personnel are added links to the long chain of people that constitute our well-managed school. The bus drivers, supervised by Mr. Murky; the custodians, directed by Mr. Focht, and the electricians and plumbers, guided by Mr. Reedy, should receive a great deal of credit for the many services they perform throughout the school term. Many times these individuals begin to work only when others finish. They are the "behind the scene" workers, putting in many extra hours in order to make the activities at Wilson a success. These people play a vital role in the effective management of our high school. They make certain that our school is one we can be proud of, both inside and outside.

SYMBOLS OF SERVICE AND ACCOMPLISHMENT

LESSONS IN LEADERSHIP

The senior high student council meets to discuss and decide affairs of the school.

President A. Mitchell administers the oath of office to the 1966-67 student council leaders. They are J. Cavaluchy, president; E. Hamberger, vice-president; R. Allushuski, secretary-treasurer.

Officers of the 1965-66 council are President, A. Mitchell; Vice-president, S. Reiff; Secretary-Treasurer, E. Hamberger; Executive Secretary, J. Scholtes.

Committees handled specific business of the student government.

A high school student government is accepted as a practical experiment in democracy. Although the ultimate powers of the council are insignificant, the gains in learning to cooperate, lead, and make decisions are invaluable.

Our student council brought the first foreign exchange student, Sylvia Thorell, to West Lawn from Sao Leopoldo, Brazil. Wilson was host to the county convention, and our president also presided over the Berks County Student Council President's Club.

HONOR SOCIETY — SCHOLARS AND LEADERS

Inductees solemnly pledge to uphold Honor Society standards.

To be elected to the National Honor Society is an honor, for the new member must possess the qualities of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. The faculty selects the few who may join by choosing eight percent from the junior class and seven percent from the senior class. The induction ceremony, solemn and impressive, is highlighted by four student and one guest speaker, who spur the young people to set high goals in life and then continually strive to reach them. The inductees are initiated and receive a certificate and key -- symbols of the doors opened for them in the future through their pursuit of knowledge and service to fellow men.

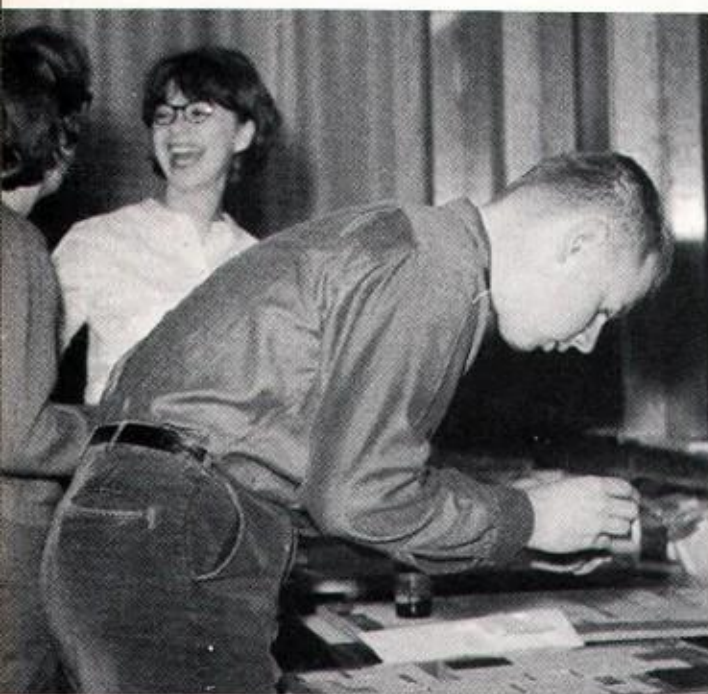

E. Guilden places the golden key of leadership around B. Stump's shoulders.

THE MARCHING UNIT TRIUMPHANT

Keep a stiff upper arm.

The Wilson Senior High Marching Unit, under the dynamic leadership of Frank Ferraro, has continued its phenomenal successes. To enhance its big sound and action, grades nine through twelve were included. The 150-member group played at football games, and in between captured three firsts, a second and two thirds in fine field-marching competitions, and a first in the Santa Claus parade -- a triumph over Boyertown. The corps represented Wilson at a Philadelphia Eagle's football game over national television. A pep band enlivened basketball games, and a stage band was organized. In April the unit presented an extravagant spring concert, and a month later performed in Washington's National AAA Competition.

Forward march!

Charge!

The twirling corps takes off.

Is it a bird? Is it a plane? . . .

. . . And the band played on.

It's all over.

The Color Guard steps high.

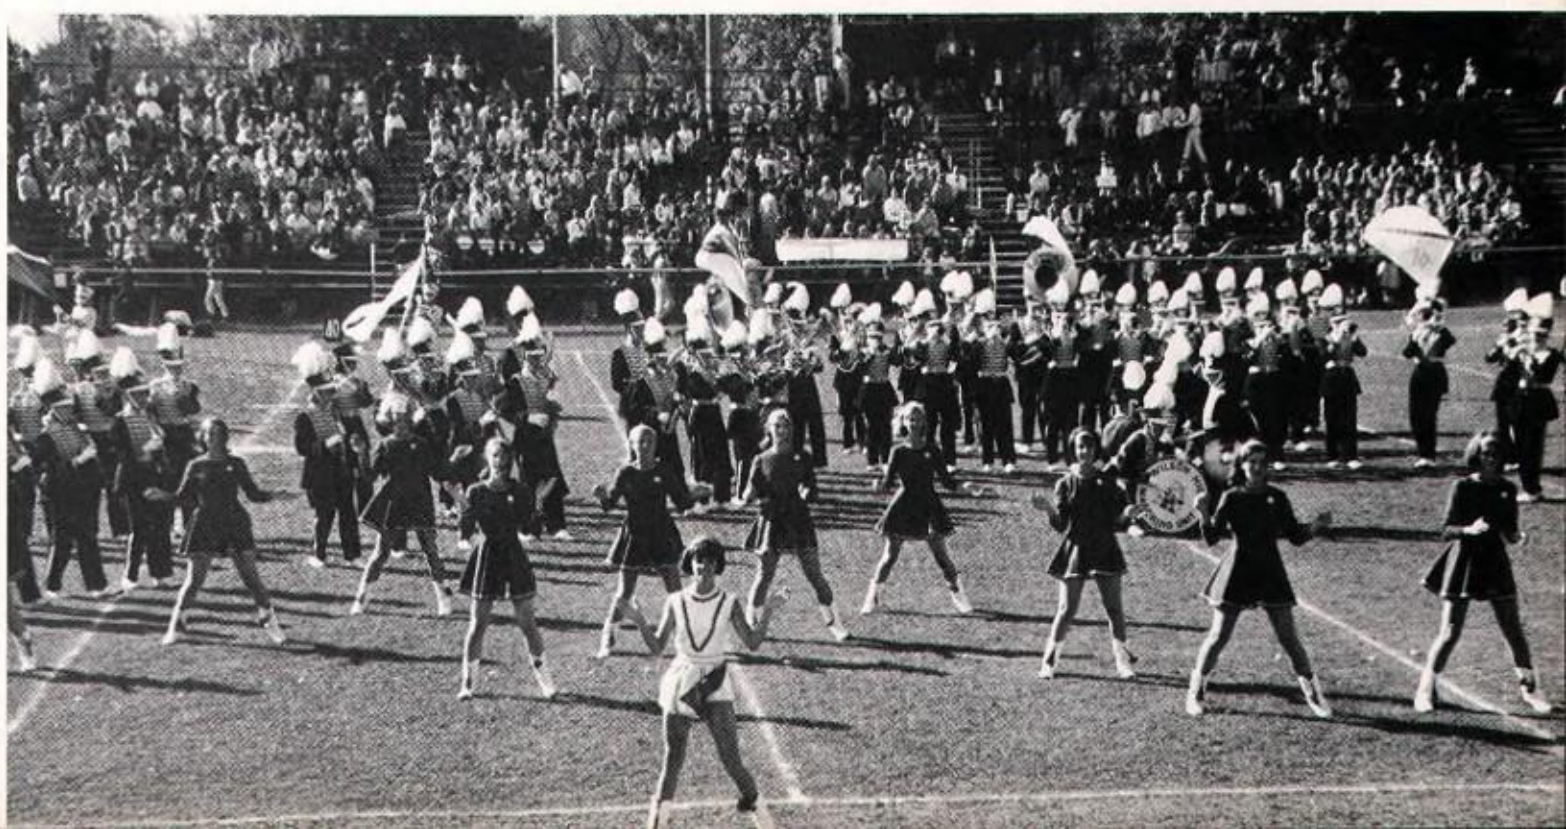

Begin the Beguine.

Eyes front!

Clap your hands, stamp your feet.

DOORWAYS TO NEW MELODIES

Senior Chorus Officers -- D. Miller, Sec.; K. Potteiger, Treas.; M. O'Flaherty, Pres.; and B. Ulrich, V. Pres. -- pose with Mrs. Strauser.

Mrs. Susan Strauser, the energetic director of the chorus, broadened the program of presentations this year. The autumn concert, Harvest of Song, was comprised of folk and religious numbers, and a second concert was performed in the spring. On Dec. 22, Christmas cheer was spread by the Senior chorus, band, and concert choir. A small, talented group, the concert choir was busy with many outside engagements. On April 15 and 16, the Music Department presented a Broadway Musical Comedy "Little Mary Sunshine."

The voices of the Concert Choir blend harmoniously in the Christmas Concert.

VIVACITY IS VITAL TO VICTORY

The 1965-66 school year marked a change in the ebbing tide of school spirit at Wilson. The cheerleading squad and their coach, Mr. Lee Miller, are responsible. Instilling and leading the spirit and enthusiasm of the student body is a difficult and sometimes a quite arduous task. The cheerleaders share the joys of triumph and the tears of defeat with each team. The material returns are small; the greatest reward is the warm response of a crowd emotionally involved in a contest. However, the school spirit of these girls is not confined to athletic events and pep rallies but extends into all aspects of their school life.

Varsity cheerleaders pile up their school spirit before a game.

Excitement, anticipation, and fear struggle for expression in the faces of the cheerleaders.

Wearing their victory smiles, Wilson's JV cheerleaders are D. Bock, J. Fleming, S. Seiders, K. Farrell, P. Focht, C. Keegan, and C. McNerney.

Yea, team! is the cry of both squads as half-time begins.

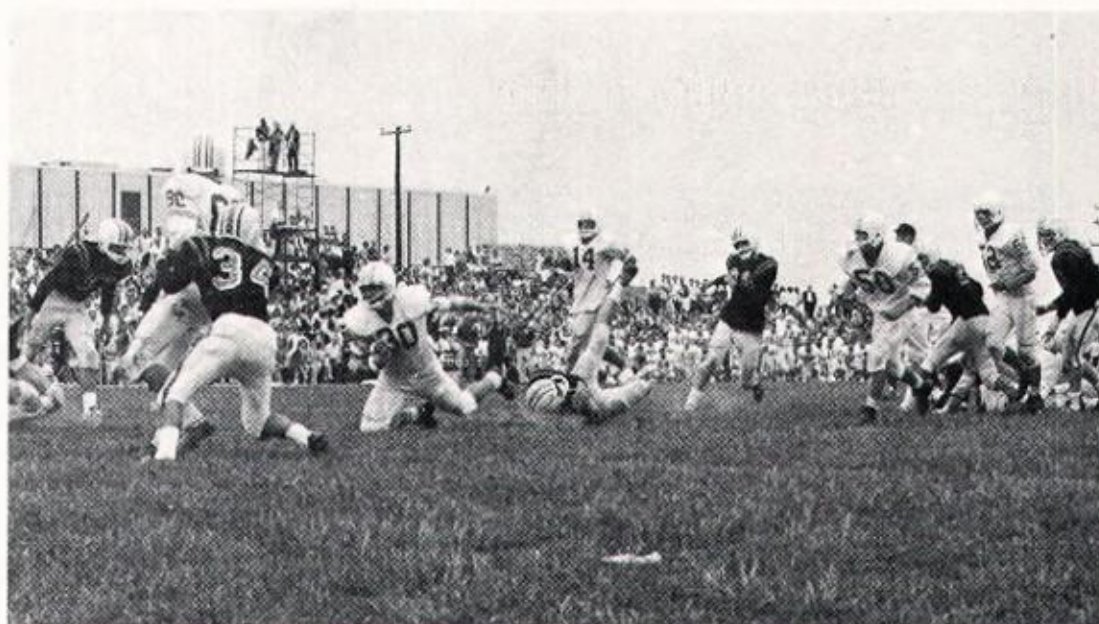

INDOMITABLE SPIRIT TRIUMPHS

. . . And he saw that it was good.

K. Bivens goes for another gain in a big win over Lancaster.

The thinkers ponder strategems.

The Wilson football team encountered both failure and success during the 1965 grid season. Although the Bulldogs failed in reaching their goal of a winning season, they succeeded in something far more important. By hard work, determination, and incomparable spirit, they raised themselves above the ranks of mediocre teams and became the fore-runners in a trend towards better football at Wilson.

Under the fine leadership of the experienced coaching staff, a new program opened the door for more boys to participate, and with the advent of greater interest in the sport, the future is sure to hold many powerful teams and impressive records.

With this thought in mind, Wilson will remember the exceptional team of 1965 that did so much to initiate a football revolution.

JV'S TODAY — VARSITY TOMORROW

The 1965 Junior Varsity football team compiled a rather impressive record. Under the expert coaching of Anthony Matz and Kenneth Platt, the team gained skill and valuable playing experience. The team, composed entirely of sophomores and juniors, displayed much potential talent and a keen, competitive spirit. Their fine field performances and dedication indicate a bright future for our Wilson varsity.

THE FOOTBALL QUEEN AND HER COURT

An aura of happiness surrounds Football Queen Cheryl Mattis.

In the atmosphere of a pre-Mifflin game -- cheering crowds, the smell of hotdogs, and the shouts of teams warming up -- a football queen was crowned. The coronation of Cheryl Mattis climaxed the contest among eleven senior girls who represented clubs and were elected by the senior class.

A senior girl is traditionally selected for her personality, appearance, and school spirit to be Wilson's Football Queen. Her coronation marks the zenith of the football season, an end to the time of bands, fans, cheerleaders, coaches, and players.

BOOTERS POLISH PREVIOUS RECORD

Soccer, enjoying its second year of revival at Wilson, is a most arduous sport, and Coach John Davies and his booters are to be commended on the energy, vigor, and fine spirit they displayed through the season. It was a long and difficult season for our soccer team; our booters lost a close one to Brandywine in the final twenty seconds. Against Hamburg they played a fine game but lost 2-1. Although this year's record shows a marked improvement over the 0-9-1 record of last year, we can expect even greater achievements in the coming years, as the team gains valuable experience. Prospects for next year are hopefully brighter, and we wish the team the best of luck.

ENDURANCE GUIDES HARRIERS PAST FOES

No longer a mere training ground, cross-country has become a prominent sport. The account of the 1965 cross-country team is the success story of the fall sports season. Our Wilson harriers finished the season with a surprising 9-2 league record and an 11-4 record for the entire season. The key factor for the team's success was the rugged endurance possessed by each team member: although much emphasis is placed on inter-scholastic rivalry, cross-country is essentially an individual sport. Under the surveillance of their coach, the boys developed in body and spirit. The Conference and District runs where the team avenged an earlier Mifflin defeat were the highlights of the season. The return of our two top runners, Scott Sheidy and Greg Fredericks, is an auspice for the success of next year's team.

SPEED, SKILL, SPIRIT . . . SUCCESS!

Hockey, the most vigorous of girls' sports, requires training, skill, and expert coaching. The 1965 team had all of this plus that added incentive -- spirit. The team was stocked with experienced members and strengthened by new players showing much potential.

After a frustrating start on their season, the girls recovered sufficiently to gain second place in the league. Encouraged by few but avid spectators, the team spirit soared during the season. Hockey is rapidly gaining popularity in this area and Wilson is in the midst of the trend for better hockey. Summer hockey camps provide for expert coaches as well as an opportunity to prepare for the coming season.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP WAS SO CLOSE AND YET...

Blessed is she who coaches well, for she shall gain the respect of her team.

"There is no disappointment we endure
One half so great as that we are to ourselves."

The girls' basketball team had set their goal high -- the Central Division championship -- and though they fell short of that goal the team left its mark on the 1966 sports scene. The team was well balanced and amazingly skilled. Under the efficient coaching of Mrs. Roberta Koch and the leadership of co-captains Sandy Lamm and Kathy Potteiger, the girls practiced hard and developed into a promising team. The season had an auspicious beginning as the girls' spirit gave the team the impetus to go undefeated for the first six games. When the goal was within their grasp, they were defeated by Governor Mifflin. The girls recovered sufficiently to beat their next opponent, only to have the prize torn from their hands in the last match. The team seemed to lack only the confidence needed for a championship. But even this keen disappointment did not crush the girls' indomitable spirit. Certainly the 1966 team will long be remembered.

The 1966 track team, winning four of five dual meets and placing either second or third in nearly all county meets, had a highly successful season. On April 30, the mile relay team posted Wilson's first Penn Relays' victory. Senior Scott Hagy amazed and pleased county track observers with his javelin throws of over 200 feet, including one of 219' 6", a new county record.

L. Sensenig clears the hurdles with ease.

The 1966 softball season was a successful but a frustrating one. The girls were forced to share the league title with Governor Mifflin. The team was strong in all areas. Their strength was particularly evident in the pitching staff, the team's major component. Coached by a seasoned expert, the team enjoyed an advantage over the other teams in the county.

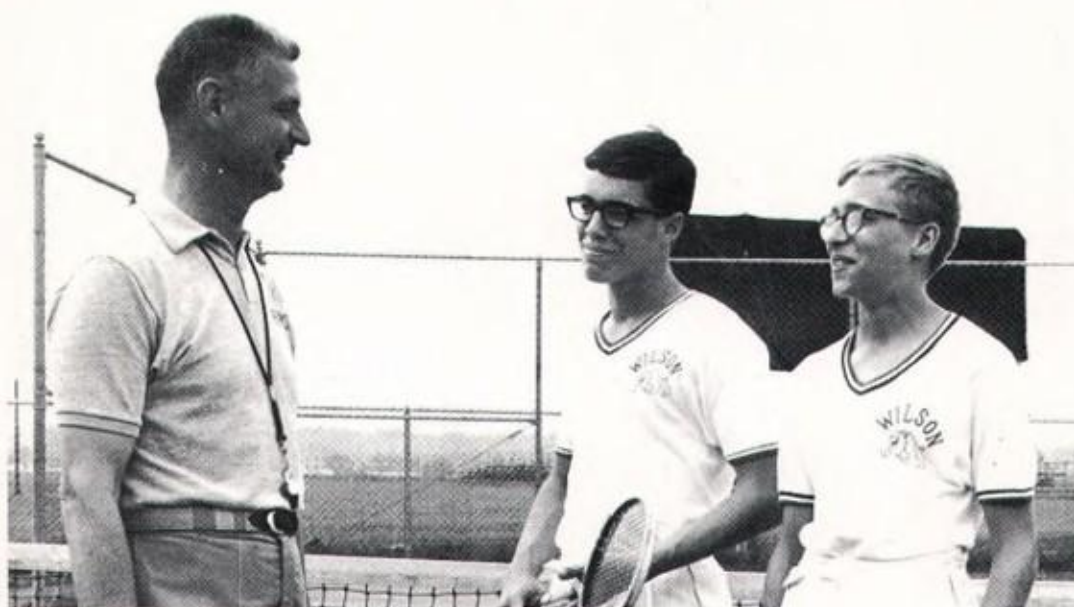

Three studies in form.

The 1966 tennis team, eager to learn, attentively listens to Coach Hopp's instructive words.

PERSONAL DEXTERITY — KEY TO TENNIS

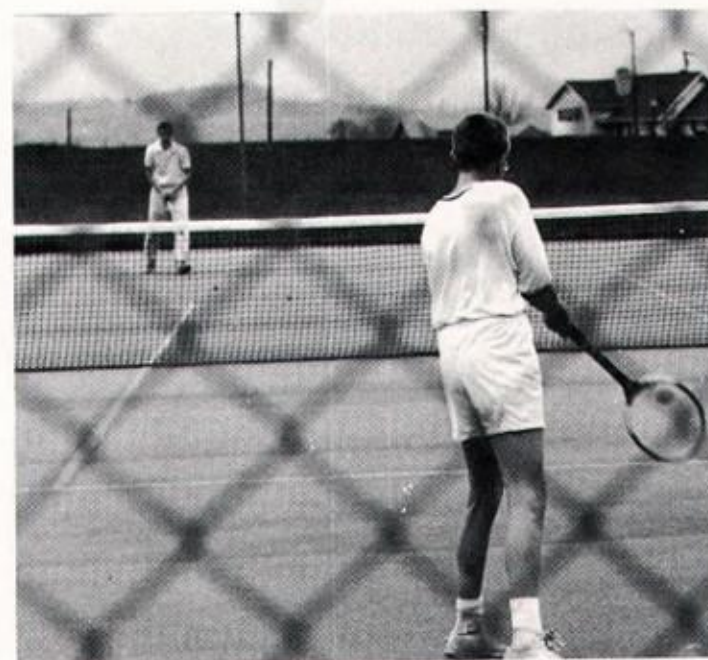

Leaders of the team are Coach Hopp and Co-captains M. Dries and E. Hamberger.

Breath-taking anticipation arrests action.

Tennis is one of the growing sports at Wilson. Underclassmen comprised the 1966 tennis team, and with determination and practice they worked to an even 7-7 season. The team was small, but its six members proved that promising things come in small packages. In another year the boys will have acquired additional dexterity, corodination, and agility to make the team even more successful.

Form and precision are essential in this individual sport.

REVIEW

During the school year Wilson athletes wait for the sports award assembly and hope that they have worked hard enough to deserve a letter. Besides team letters, there are best athlete trophies for each sport. The award assembly gives Wilson athletes the incentive to achieve bigger and better triumphs in sports. This year Wilson won the prized Sportsmanship trophy for the second consecutive year. The wrestling team and the girls' softball team both acquired their respective championships. Scott Hagy was also a credit to Wilson when he attained the state javelin championship.

Miss Leinbach expounds on the high points of the girls' basketball team.

The championship wrestling team gets its well-deserved recognition.

“A LITTLE LEARNING IS A DANG’ROUS THING”

When seniors graduate from high school, they pass through the most important doorway of their lives. While commencement is the exit from twelve years of education, it is also the threshold to the demanding world of reality. The Class of '66 has left its years of expectant preparation behind them; the sphere of uncertainty, danger, trials, and problems has been thrust upon them.

The members of the Class of '66 will be forced to meet requirements demanded of no other class before them. Competition in all realms of life is becoming more acute. Society claims more of man's talents and resources to keep up with its rapid progress.

Education or occupational training beyond the limits of high school is imperative to compete for today's jobs. The Age of the Computer has been firmly established and it is the responsibility of the Class of '66 to meet its needs. With increased specialty comes increased interdependence. All citizens of the world must learn that "no man is an island." To meet the trying tests of his world, a man needs a broad education.

"A little learning is a dang'rous thing;
Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring;
There shallow draughts intoxicate the brain,
And drinking largely sobers us again."

These words were gleaned from Alexander Pope's years of experience, and experience is the best teacher.

But to keep his pride, dignity, and conscience pure, a man needs integrity to meet the challenges of the world. The members of the class of '66 will need all of the courage, vitality and determination they can muster.

Wilson is such a beautiful school!

It has been so nice to spend this year studying at Wilson, not only because of the pleasant buildings, but the teachers, my classmates, and the subjects themselves contributed to the good time I've had at school. One year is a long time to be far from one's family and from friends but is a short time to see everything I had heard about or would like to do, and the Wilson program kept me so busy!

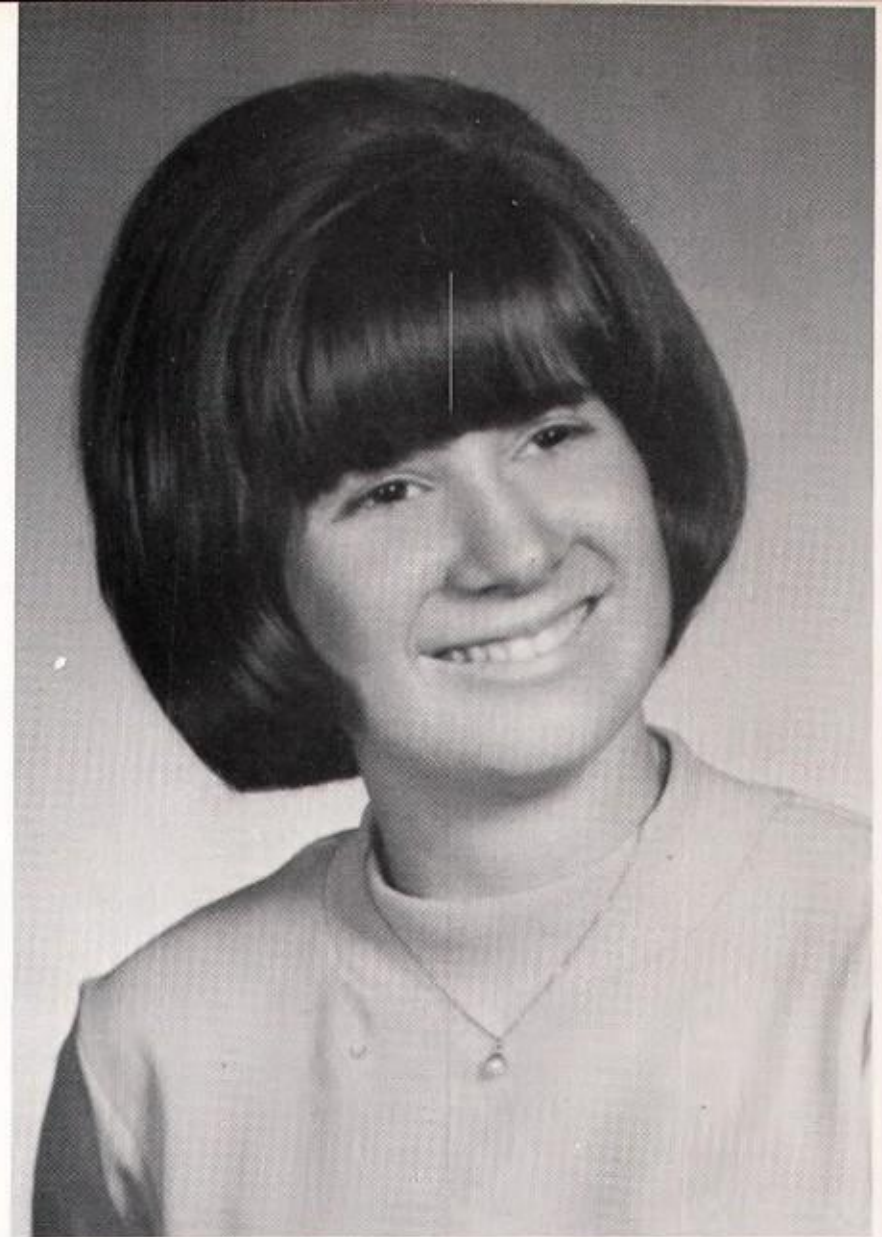

I have enjoyed every minute of the football games, specially the first one. When I got to the field, I saw an ambulance outside and a few minutes after the game started, hearing the people crying, "Kill him!" I could understand why the ambulance was on the field. It really was a rough game. The basketball games were very exciting, particularly when the score was very close. Then I began to bite my fingernails!

It has been so great for me to be an AFS exchange student living with a nice and happy American family, having a lovely mother, a great father, a nice sister Janet, and a cute brother Ken. And by meeting exchange students from other countries I felt I was really part of a world-wide project to promote universal understanding.

While the Wilson '66 graduates return from college to receive this yearbook, I will be studying to take the February examinations for my Medical University. I know the preparation I received at Wilson will be helpful to me at the university and in my life that follows.

AMBASSADOR TO WILSON

The Amidon family inducts Sylvia as a member.

Sylvia relaxes with two friends -- a beaver and a book.

SENIORS MAKE FINAL CURTAIN CALL AS PRODUCTION ENDS

Since ARSENIC AND OLD LACE was first produced in New York twenty-five years ago, people throughout the world have delighted in its wonderfully bizarre humor. When this unusual play was chosen for the senior class, the audience reacted as audiences everywhere and plunged into the turbulence of the slightly mad Brewster family. Lynn Hannigan and Louise Gernert were perfectly cast as the two deadly little darlings who poison old, homeless men as a "charity." John Lebo and Karey Schaffer were unforgettable as the mad doctor and his even madder patient, and Gregory Gundy and Virginia Stroman supplied romance. On stage the actors executed their lines with facility, and the action was rapid. Behind the scenes committee members kept the production running smoothly, with the result that the Senior Class play of 1966 was one of the best Wilson has ever had.

You simply must try a glass of our wine before your trip to Panama.

Tippecanoe and Tyler, too!

I'd love to help you, boys, but my hands are tied.

WASHINGTON REVISITED

The Mall stretches toward the Capitol from the Washington Monument.

Eleven o'clock droop sets in.

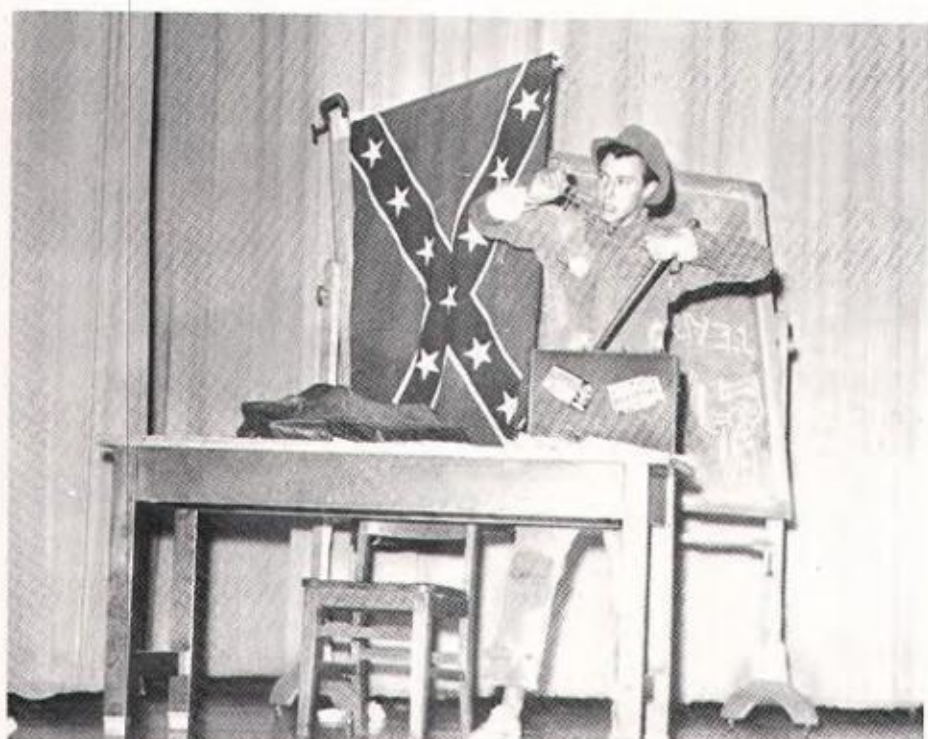

Seniors watch and wait for the changing of the guard.

The traditional senior class trip to Washington D.C. was an insight into the history and government of our country. A tour of the FBI headquarters and a visit to the Capitol highlighted the junket. Witnessing the changing of the guard and seeing the Kennedy gravesite at Arlington were especially inspiring.

"THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES"

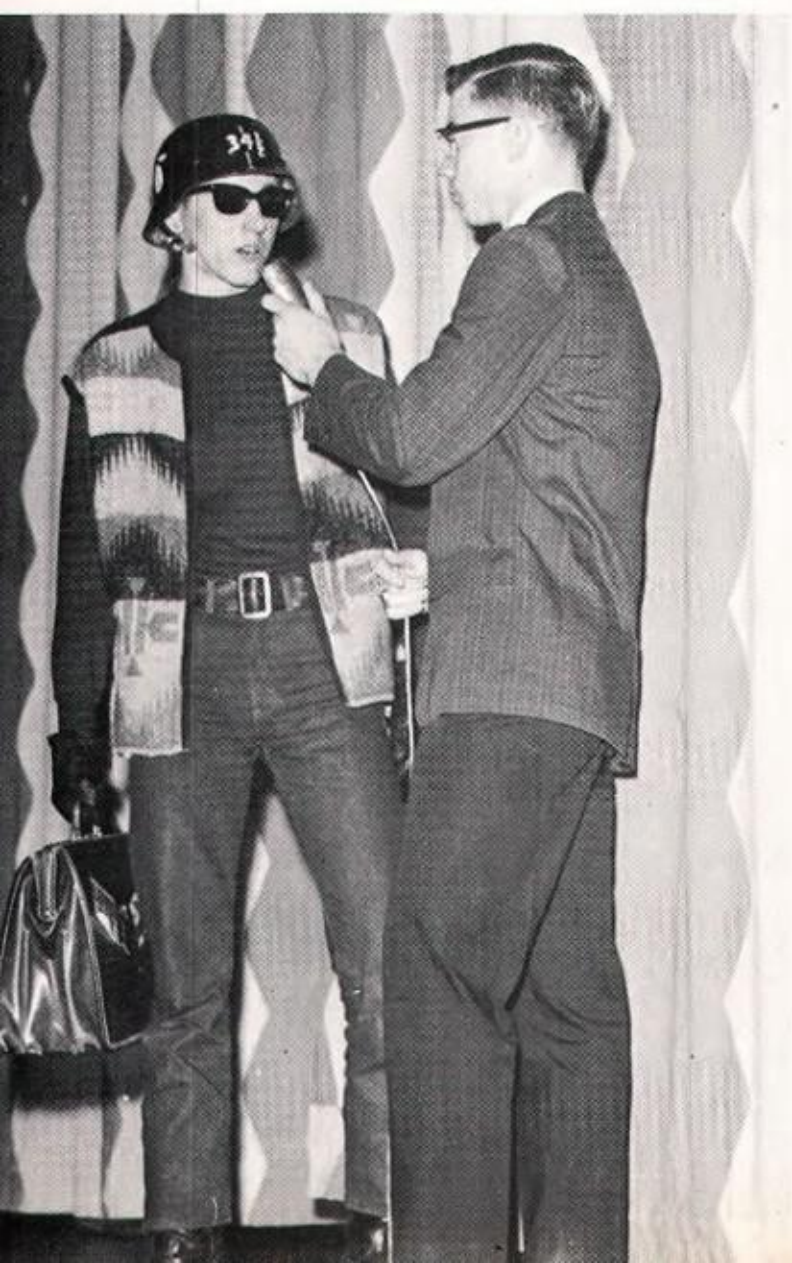

"Now this is a very tricky problem."

This is the will-ophonic will for all you teens.

The man-on-the-street interviews Herr Rufus Kent Dimple.

But his band was something else!

Mama Mia! What a team!

Deciding to sit this dance out are B. Ray and B. Ulrich, hostess and host.

The work done was harder than just cutting out paper dolls.

PROM FULFILLS

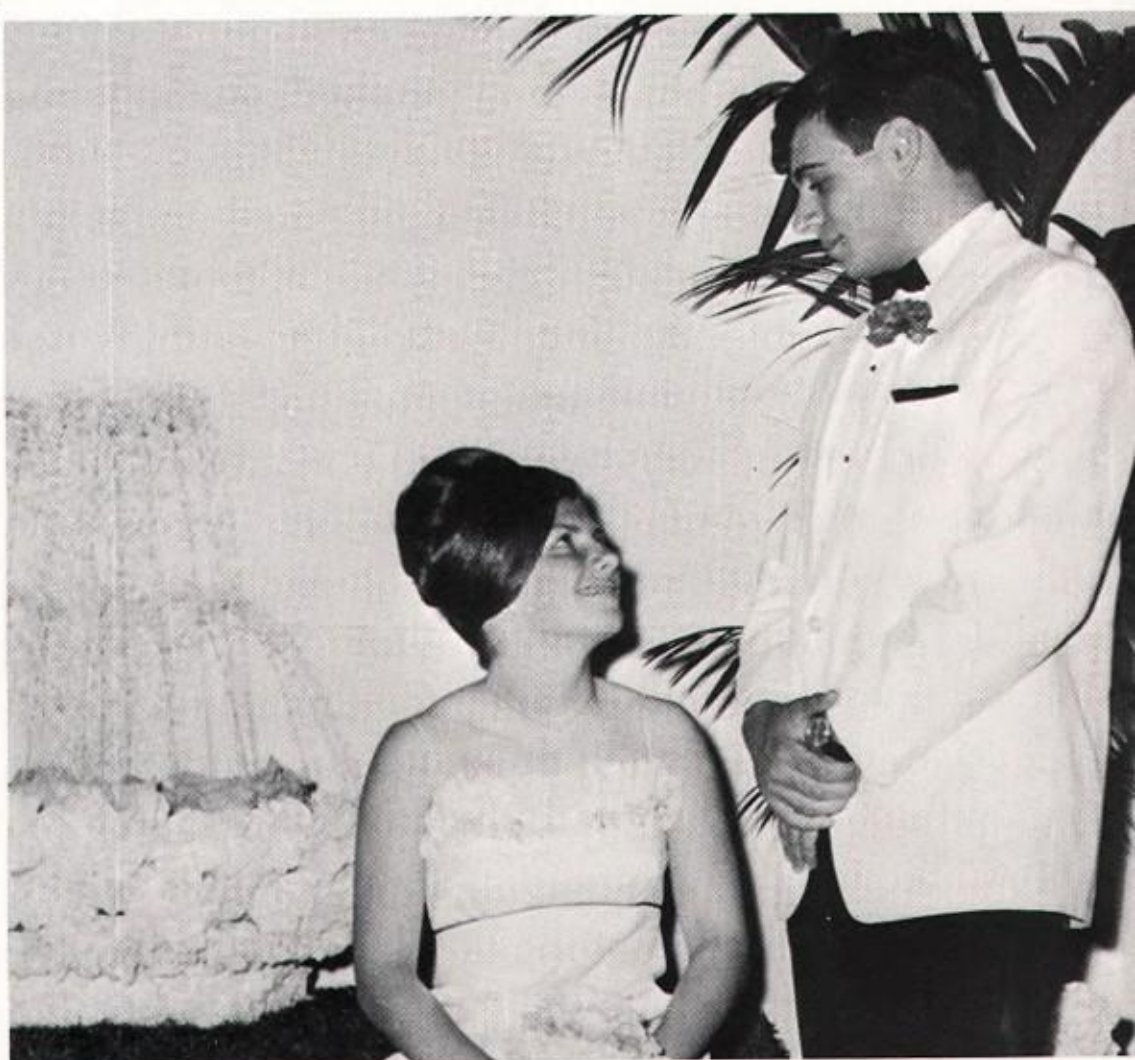

The natives were restless!

Wes Fisher and his orchestra provided music for dancing.

E. Guldin and A. Mitchell pause to study the stars in each other's eyes.

ADVENTURES IN PARADISE

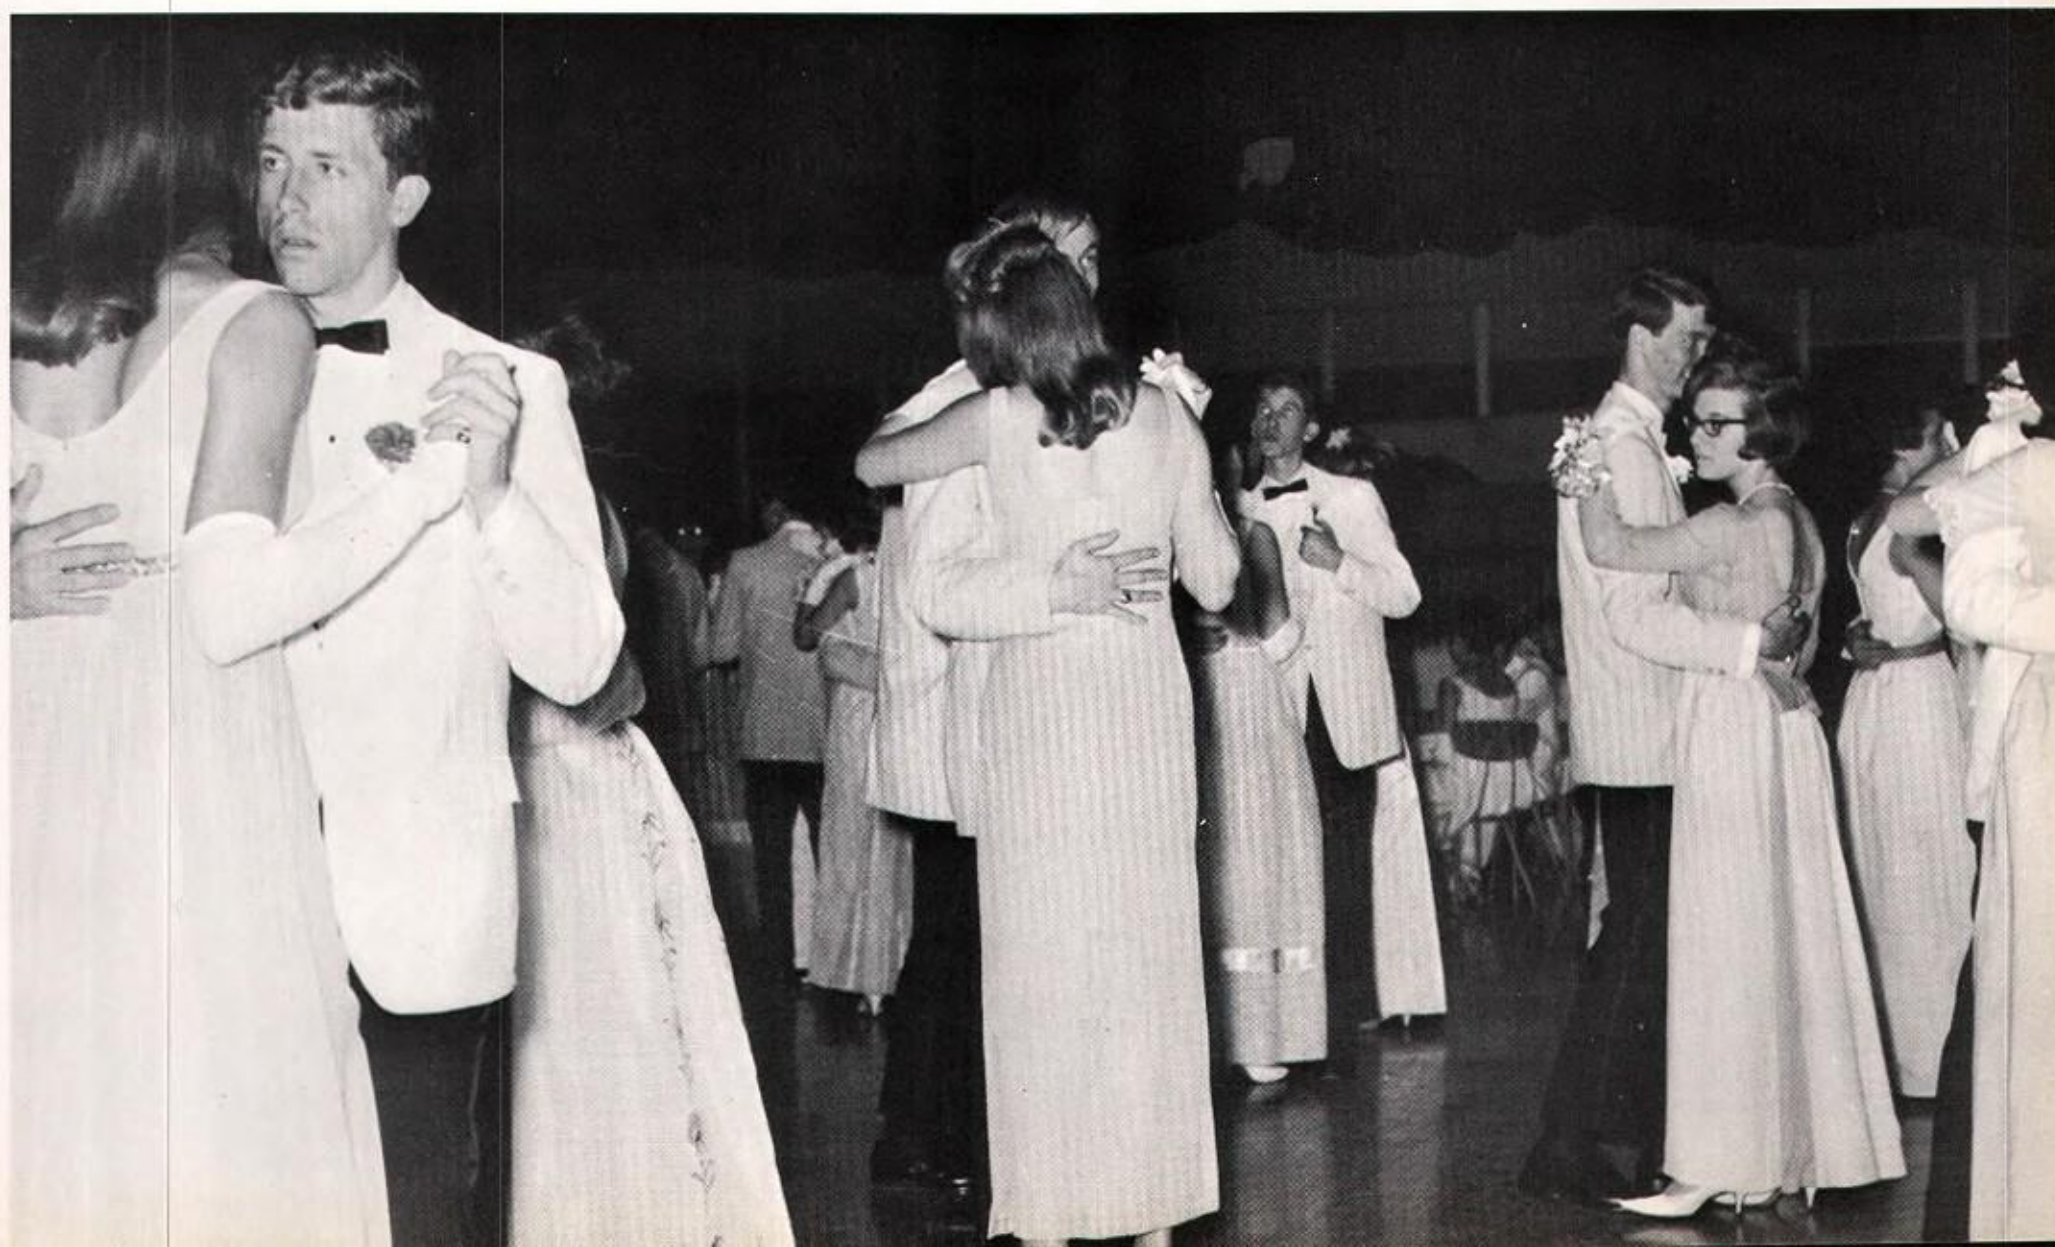

But tonight was supposed to be MY night!

Everyone rolled up his sleeves and pitched in.

All agreed that it was a dreamy night.

SPIRITUAL MESSAGE

Rev. M. Albright delivers the baccalaureate address.

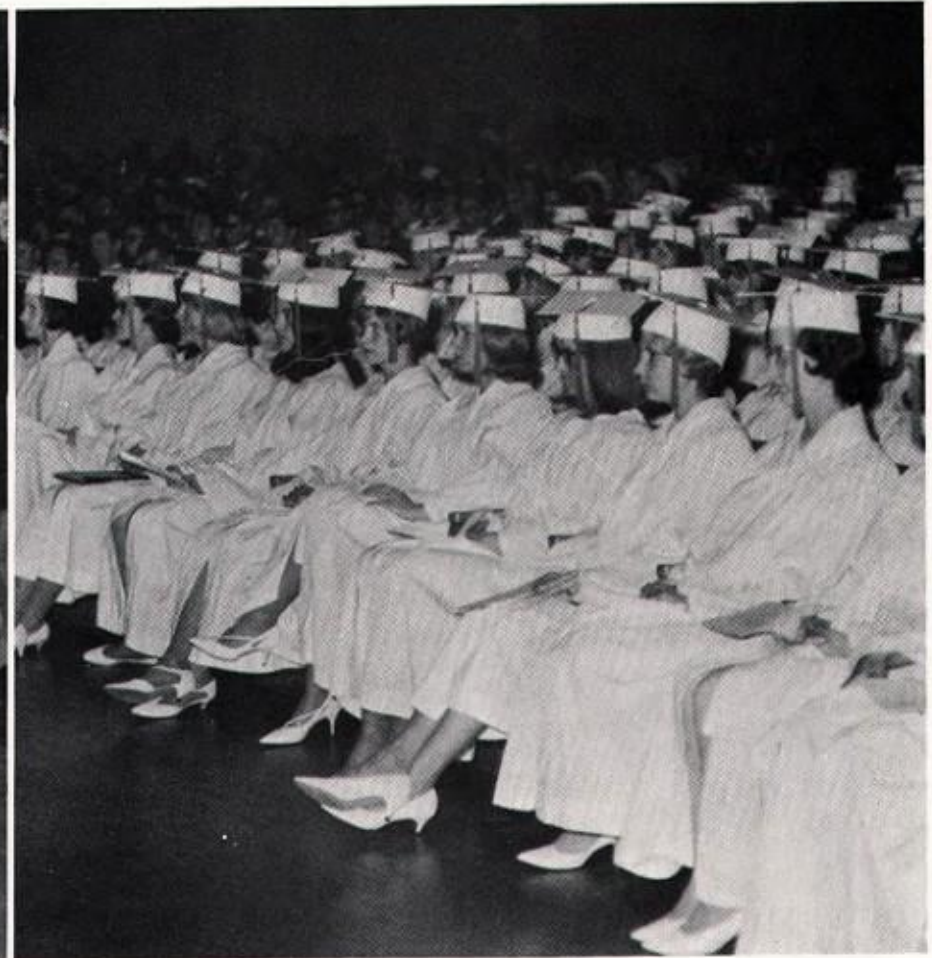

The Senior Chorus offers hymns of praise.

Whew! It's over.

Seniors heed the challenging words.

COMMENCEMENT — INSPIRING CEREMONY

The honored guests and speakers await the commencement of graduation exercises.

Proudly and solemnly, the procession begins.

The ultimate goal of high school students -- commencement -- has finally arrived. It is an end to days of racing down the hall to the next class, days of riding the school bus, and days of football and basketball games. But it is actually only an end to the beginning of Life. When the graduate receives his diploma, he passes over the threshold to new associations, defeats, and successes.

A salute from the Blue Angels was an added attraction of the outdoor event.

A TIME FOR SMILES AND TEARS

Honor graduates stand before their peers while emotions become intense.

Palms surround the speakers as the doorways to the future are described.

"Congratulations, good luck, and keep smiling."

"And to think that now we're alumni!"

CIRCUS CAPERS: FINAL WHIRL ON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Where have I seen you before? At the Prom?

I'm too tired to dance again.

Ummmm, that centerpiece looks good enough to eat!

The Starlighters take a break amid the candy canes.

We got thirteen shaves out of one Personna blade!
